About Sharing House

Sharing House is a faith-based, cooperative organisation uniting area congregations, individuals, and businesses, believing that together, we can provide more effective assistance to those in need than any one of us could achieve alone. For over 42 years, Sharing House has served as a cornerstone of compassion and crisis assistance for under-resourced neighbours in Transylvania County, NC. Guided by the principles of love-in-action and the inherent dignity of every person, Sharing House is committed to uplifting our community and fostering resilience by providing essential services in a trauma-informed environment, including food and fresh produce, gently-used clothing, rent and utility assistance, household goods, and camping equipment. The facility offers hot showers, a safe space for sharing stories of struggle, and a refuge of belonging.

In Transylvania County, 45 per cent of residents struggle with unaffordable rent, and 35 per cent are considered low-income, earning less than $55,500 for a family of four. At Sharing House, the urgent need for a compassionate response to these challenges is recognised, and it is committed to offering pathways out of poverty and crisis, providing support and resources that empower individuals and families to achieve stability and self-sufficiency.
