Nanavati Max Super Specialty Hospital, Mumbai today announced the launch of a first-of-its-kind 'Aesthetic Clinic for Men' and a unique Men's Health Awareness Campaign at the hospital ahead of International Men's Day on November 17. Noted Bollywood actor, Vicky Kaushal inaugurated the campaign and Aesthetic Clinic for Men—attached to a quaternary care medical facility here today.

Orating the public on the dire need to raise awareness about men's health, Mangla Dembi, Senior Vice President and Head, of Nanavati Max Super Specialty Hospital, said, "International Men's Day is about celebrating the unsung heroes who make personal sacrifices to ensure that their loved ones get to live peaceful, fulfilling, enriching and exciting lives. However, according to Harvard Health Publishing of the Harvard Medical School, men not only die at a younger age than women but are also more prone to illness during life. The campaign is aimed at raising awareness about men's health and encouraging them to pursue routine health check-ups and stay updated about their conditions."
